This has been a poor huckleberry season. The Walkerton Independent says that the huckleberry crop is about at an end. The berries have been drying on the bushes, and it has been one of the poorest seasons ever known there.

LOST—A whole gang of Three I railway surveyors. When last seen or heard of they were running a line eastwardly through Plymouth. Information will be eagerly received at the office of the Independent, where the only man who ever saw them holds out.

A surprise party was held at the home of Miss Chloe Oliver in west Plymouth, Friday night it being the occasion of her 15th birthday. Games were the principal enjoyment of the evening and they were continued until a late hour, a good time being reported by all in attendance.

The council met in committee of the whole Friday evening to consider the alleged difficulty rolling the foundation for the paving. A brief but spirited discussion convinced the contractor that the council is not "easy" and that the specifications must be complied with. The roller operated all right when it was started this morning and the work will probably be no further troubled.

BRICK IS LAID

MAYOR JONES PUTS THE FIRST BLOCK IN PLACE

Difficulty in Rolling the Gravel Foundation Leads to Apprehension as to Results.

Exactly at 1:36 o'clock Friday afternoon Mayor P. O. Jones, in the presence of the contractors, some city officials and a few interested citizens, solemnly laid the first brick in the first pavement in the city of Plymouth. Councilmen Reynolds and Astley then laid the second and third bricks and the job was turned over to the workmen to be pushed on to completion. It is expected that the bricklayers will get to the bridge fully as soon as the foundation is prepared for them, the work being started at the north side of Jackson street.

Some difficulty was experienced in running the heavy roller over the 8-inch layer of gravel that constitutes the foundation and upon which two inches of sand will be laid to form a bed for the brick, and an arrangement has been entered into whereby the pavement is to be laid first and then rolled, the agreement of the contractors being that if the result is not satisfactory in the first square so laid and rolled they will take it up and do the work over in accordance with the original contract.

Many citizens are apprehensive that the ill effects of such a procedure may not become manifest for several years, when it will be too late to apply a remedy except at the city's expense, and they feel that the usual course should be pursued by Hatch & Sons, that of rolling the gravel in layers or using a light roller first before applying the heavy one. It is the common opinion that the gravel foundation should be thoroughly packed before the pavement is laid, and that a surface of permanent smoothness cannot otherwise be insured.

GENUINE EXCURSION.

Metropolitan Pleasure for Everybody.

Nearly every one living in this community will doubtless want to visit South Bend on Sat. Aug. 24 when the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' great consolidated shows, comprising double circus, double menageries, double museums, double hippodromes, will appear there. These great shows are the only ones that exhibit in New York city. No others dare even attempt to exhibit in the metropolis. They opened this season at the Madison Square Garden in New York, and the newspapers, without exception, stated that it was the greatest circus this country had ever seen. The agent of the Vandalla line will furnish all necessary information as to time of trains and rates of fare.

Pretty Lake Circus.

Kuhn Bros. & Martindale's big circus and menagerie, gave a very good show at the circus grounds at Pretty Lake Friday afternoon, the features being high diving from a 12 foot scaffold into the lake, rope walking, tumbling, bicycle riding, etc. Each and every performer was a star in his respective line. Admission being only 1 cent for all the combined shows they naturally had a large audience, who were greatly pleased with the entertainment. The management of the show were also tickled with their financial success. A concert was given after the big show, and a street parade in the morning.

GONE TO HORSE HEAVEN

Chief Kuhn's Fire Horse is Dead—A Notable Career.

Death has again invaded the ranks of Plymouth's public characters and removed a figure that has been familiar on our streets for more than twenty years. Old "Frank" is dead. He died Friday night at 11 o'clock, quietly and painlessly, after an illness of but a day, which was the only illness he ever experienced in his unusually long life.

Frank was the horse that for many years drew Chief Kuhn's fire buggy. He was born on the Closser stock farm near Laporte 33 years ago last November, of respectable but not especially notable parents, and he came to Plymouth in 1879 as the property of Fred H. Kuhn, in whose service he remained, a faithful and reliable beast. When Mr. Kuhn was chief of the city fire department in 1884 old Frank was taken in also and his intelligent apprehension of his duties was no less remarkable than his eagerness to perform them. He knew the fire bell and whistle and never failed to distinguish the alarm of fire from other sounds made by the same bell or whistle, day or night.

On one occasion when an alarm came, Frank was tied in his stall with a heavy strap and he was also shut in by a half door locked across the rear of his stall. No one came to release him so he tore loose from the fastenings, leaped the barrier and flew to the scene of the fire, where he arrived at the same moment Chief Kuhn did, to whom he reported and stopped quietly until the firemen finished their work. For four years Frank has been deaf and has been retired from the service and from work of all kinds, and during that time he has always been agitated at the sight of the fire buggy moving away from him.

Friday morning at 2 o'clock the old horse was stricken with paralysis. Mr. Kuhn, who was at Pretty Lake, was immediately sent for and remained with the sick animal until all hope was abandoned late in the afternoon.

Frank was quiet and contented so long as his master remained by him, but was nervous and seemingly apprehensive in his absence, constantly moving and glancing about as though in fear or distress. When the end came there was a gasp and a tremor and old Frank's spirit took its flight for the equine paradise.

A Country Runaway.

Thursday forenoon while Mrs. Hoke, of Elkhart, who is visiting the family of Henry Price west of this city, was driving to town in a buggy with her two children, a wheel broke at the Pennsylvania railway crossing and so frightened the horse that he ran away. The occupants of the vehicle were thrown out but not injured, except that Mrs. Hoke's face was badly scratched, and the contents were scattered over a distance of half a mile to the old Palmer place, where the animal was caught. The property was all recovered except Mrs. Hoke's pocket book, containing some money and valuable papers.

The book was found later but the money was gone.

Improvements at St. Michaels.

Extensive improvements are being made during the summer vacation at St. Michael's Academy in the interest of comfort and convenience. The chief alteration is the construction of a basement building for purposes of storage and to accommodate a hot water heating plant to cost $2,000. In another year it is probable that an additional building will be erected and still further improvements made, the plans having already been adopted.

PIANO FACTORY

Parties in Town Saturday Looking for a Favorable Location.

L. H. Baldwin, of Chicago, representing the Industrial Company, of that city, was in Plymouth Saturday in conference with parties interested in the old Novelty plant with a view to occupying it. In the afternoon three gentlemen engaged in the piano manufacturing business arrived, and, together with one or two members of the Business Men's association, inspected the buildings and grounds.

No definite proposition has as yet been made, as we go to press, but if a deal can be made to bring the piano factory here a valuable addition to Plymouth's industries will be the result.

One of the men said the plant was too large for their purpose, but they were favorably impressed with the city as a location, and would consider the question of building for themselves.

"Ben Hur" in Chicago.

"Ben Hur" has heretofore been seen exclusively in the cities of the east, its engagements being limited to New York, where it played over a year, to Philadelphia, Boston and Brooklyn. Its first western engagement will open the season of the Illinois theatre, Chicago, on Monday evening, Sept. 2nd. The great play will remain at the Illinois for a limited period. So much interest has been centered in this engagement, and so many inquiries have been made by mail and telegraph, that Klaw & Erlanger have decided to accept orders for seats for any of the performances of the first three weeks, with the exception of the initial representation. These will be filled in the order of their receipt, if accompanied by check or money order. The advance sale will open at the Illinois theatre, Chicago, on Thursday, August 29th. Seats for the first performance of "Ben Hur" will have to be procured at the box office of the theatre.

Speakers at Lake Maxinkuckee.

LAKE MAXINKUCKEE, Ind., Aug. 8.—Prof. B. C. Dewese began his Bible work at Maxinkuckee Assembly yesterday, and during his engagement will give six lectures. W. E. Harlow came Tuesday to lecture, and C. A. Hardy, of Lima, O., who is to have charge of the Y. M. C. A. physical training, is here. Preparations have been made for a large number of visitors next Sunday, when there will be an excursion on the Vandalla road, the tickets being good until Monday. The day will be devoted to religious affairs. Sunday at the assembly grounds is a day of worship. No newspapers are sold, the boats are locked up and weekday amusements are abandoned. There is an active demand for real estate, and twenty lots for cottages have been sold.

Early Life at Ft. Wayne.

In the story of "Angus Corbly's, Captivity" now running in our columns, the band of Indian hunters whose life and adventures on the St. Mary's river not far from Ft. Wayne has been described, break up their camp in today's chapter and proceed to Kikeonga, which was the name of the Indian village standing where Ft. Wayne is now. The life at that old post of the traders, soldiers, missionaries and adventurers, is faithfully and accurately described from letters and reports written at the time and it is very interesting. From that point the young captive will be taken to the region of the Tippecanoe and Maxinkuckee.

Henry L. Shattuck of Shellsburg, Iowa, was cured of a stomach trouble with which he had been afflicted for years, by four boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He had previously tried many other remedies and a number of physicians without relief. For sale by J. W. Hess.

Sad Death of a Baby.

While Frank Borror was moving his family and household goods from South Bend to his former home at Sligo his baby daughter, Edna Ruth, aged two months, was found dead in the wagon near Lakeville Thursday night. The body was brought here next morning and prepared at Bunnell's undertaking establishment for the burial, which occurred Saturday afternoon at the McElrath cemetery, near Sligo.

Fences Don't Circulate.

An exchange furnishes the following little story which points a very clear moral: Said a local merchant the other day, "Have you noticed the fine advertisements I have on the fence west of town?" "No," replied the customer, "but if you will send the fence to my house I will read it over and see what you are dealing in. Fact is, I'm reading newspapers and don't get much time to study fence-ology."
